

How to Join the Data Management Subcommittee: DMS-Joint and the DMS-Confidential Groups

The DMS is comprised of two separate groups: DMS-Joint and the DMS-Confidential.

DMS-Joint provides information and guidance to Generation and Transmission Owners (GOs and TOs) on PJM and member company computer and control systems and communication facilities. DMS-Joint shares metrics related to communication infrastructure and addresses EMS compliance and system management standards.

DMS-Confidential is comprised of Transmission Owner (TO) Company staff engaged in EMS activities. DMS-Confidential members are also a part of the DMS-Joint group.

Per PJM Stakeholder guidelines, a total of four representatives per Member Company may participate in DMS-Joint and/or DMS-Confidential, with one primary role and three alternate roles. Both DMS-Joint and DMS-Confidential are closed stakeholder groups due to the exchange of confidential model data.

The DMS reports to the Operating Committee (OC) and System Operating Subcommittee - Transmission (SOS-T). Both groups meet quarterly, and meeting dates align with the EMS data close dates per the PJM Model Build Schedule.

The following pages outline key steps for prospective member company representatives to follow in order to join DMS-Joint or DMS-Confidential.
