Re: Load Group Proposal For RPM Enhancements

Dear Mr. Boston and Mr. Schneider:

On November 26, 2008, the RPM Load Group wrote to you to explain the rationale for the elements of the comprehensive proposal that the group had developed during the stakeholder process following the Brattle Group report on RPM. As you will see from the voting reports on these issues, the RPM Load Group proposal received majority support from the Markets and Reliability Committees and the Members Committee. The proposal is based on the Brattle Group Report and is designed to achieve the objective of ensuring long-term resource adequacy at the lowest possible cost. It was the only proposal to receive support from at least a majority of stakeholders. The Maryland Office of People's Counsel concurs in the November 26 letter and urges the Board to adopt the provisions of the RPM Load Group proposal, which is now the Majority Proposal, in its filing with FERC.
