

Todd Bessemer

Managing Director
and Principal
Market Reform

Todd Bessemer is the managing director and a principal of Market Reform, a management and economic consultancy specializing in energy, water and environmental markets. He is a global expert in market restructuring and reform.

Mr. Bessemer has advised clients in over 12 countries, spanning four continents, on matters related to strategy definition, business planning, market design, process design, organization design, systems implementation, market readiness, project planning and project management. He has planned and led a number of major electricity and gas market establishment programs and strategic change initiatives.

In addition to his client work, Mr. Bessemer directs the worldwide operations of Market Reform, which he founded in 2004. He is based in Philadelphia and Melbourne, Australia.