Google

The Google Energy Market Development & Innovation team champions affordable, reliable, and clean technologies, expands and reforms energy markets, and forges new partnerships globally to support the company's energy objectives.

Read more about Google's Tapestry collaboration with PJM to develop AI-driven data capabilities for a smarter, more reliable electricity system.

Visit www.google.com/about/datacenters/ to read more about the team's initiatives. Check out the six unique ways we advanced energy solutions in 2024 and listen to Google's data center podcast, Where the Internet Lives (goo.gle/WTIL).