

Load Management Testing Reminders

(December Testing)

Jack O'Neill, Principal Engineer

DISRS

January 5, 2026

- The most recent tests occurred on:
  - December 4 AEP Zone
  - December 10, PECO Zone
- Next steps:
  - Retest process (if desired)
  - Test Emergency Energy Settlements
  - Compliance

- Retest (if desired) – can only determine performance once all registrations in zone are tested (annual + summer only):
  - If test reductions  $> 75\%$  of commitment, CSP can self schedule retest(s) in DR Hub (must be in same season)
  - If test reductions  $\leq 75\%$  of commitment, CSP has 46 days from the test date to request that PJM schedule a single retest
    - AEP zone – by January 19, 2026
    - PECO zone – by January 25, 2026

- Submit test energy settlements within 60 days of test event
  - AEP zone – by February 2, 2026
  - PECO zone – by February 8, 2026
- CBLs
  - Generally, for AEP test CSP will need to upload 24 hours of daily load data for the following dates to calculate the 3 Day Types with SAA CBL:
    - November 26, 28 and December 1, 2, 3, 2025
  - Generally, for PECO test CSP will need to upload 24 hours of daily load data for the following dates to calculate the 3 Day Types with SAA CBL:
    - December 3, 4, 5, 8, 9, 2025

- CSP Retest (initial test > 75%)
  - Start/end instructions sent from DR Hub in response to normal CSP polling according to registrations' lead time
  - Email sent at notification time
- PJM Retest (initial test ≤ 75%)
  - Day Before PJM Retest Date:
    - Load Management/PRD Retest Summary event(s) posted to DR Hub Events section by 10:00 EPT the day before retest date
      - CSP should monitor DR Hub webpage and/or use web service function to obtain retest date
      - Since retests are CSP specific they are not posted to the Test webpage
    - Email sent by 10:00 EPT the day before retest date
  - Event Day
    - Start/end instructions sent from DR Hub in response to normal CSP polling according to registrations' lead time
    - Email sent at notification time

- Compliance will be determined after the Delivery Year
- Only registrations that have not been part of a Load Management Event during the DY will be subject to capability demonstration by test
