Sector Energy Shares
• As documented in the Supplement, sector models are created as an interim step in producing the load forecast to create the Heat, Cool, and Other End-Use Indexes. These are dependent on end-use data, economics data, and sector energy data. The following graphs are from that process, and represent the share of energy attributable to each sector.